

The Day Humanity Will Fall

THE DISORDERS

Here we are, the end of a cycle
A planet ravaged by holy fire
Followers of perverted religions
They destroyed our fate by vanity
Brought on the end of humanity

Hate and fire, will bring the pain
The price to pay
Now it is judgment day
No more dreams, no more smiles
Nothing to do
We just have to wait

In my mind I found a piece of mirror
Reflecting how things were before the horror
How deep and blue was the sea
How green the grass (was) before burning trees
We can regret although we all knew
That this would be the final issue

No more dreams, no more smiles, they say
There's no turning back
We can only wait

Now that life comes to its end
Blind to our fate, alone with our pain
Self-centered, living in denial
What will you do
when humanity will fall ?
